

National Dong Hwa University General Education Center – Vision and Perspective

A unique program because of expectation

General Education Program of NDHU, with the ideal of holistic education as our goal, offers students courses outside of their concentration to broaden their horizons of knowledge and visions. We expect every student to be a person with a grand vision, as well as the qualities of honesty, modesty, and philanthropy.

A unique arrangement based on nature, diversity, and respect

General Education Program of NDHU, with its arrangement of four categories and a set of core courses, aims to provide for students a liberal education that connects the self and the world by covering knowledge in modern disciplines and the distinctive natural environment and cultural diversity of Eastern Taiwan. In addition, the program's minimum credit requirements for each category and association with core courses in respective colleges allow students to organize individual schedules autonomously, independently, and flexibly.

A unique design in tune with core curriculum of colleges

General Education Program of NDHU, with its equal emphasis on both the width and depth of theoretical knowledge and practical experience, seeks to boost students' motivation and confidence in learning courses apart from their own majors. Students may choose courses in each of the four categories of the program and at the same time engage in the integration of General Education courses with the core curriculum of their respective colleges. Moreover, in each semester, we will invite experts and scholars inside and outside the University to give thematic lectures that enable students' access to a broader scope of insights.
